BAD-BOY MAY BE COAST BANDIT—IS SOUGHT HERE

Ray Lagomarsino, Fugitive, Thought To Be Accomplice In Sharp Park Holdup

Deputy George Krehl of the Sheriff's office has expressed the belief that Ray Lagomarsino, Daly City "bad boy" and fugitive from justice, was an accomplice in a holdup near Sharp Park, Thursday night of last week.

Description furnished by the victim of one of two men who accompanied him on a mysterious auto ride to a lonely spot on the coastside, fits that of the missing bandit-burglar suspect.

The victim was Paul Wenzel, 955 Golden Gate avenue, San Francisco. Shoeless, he made his way to a Salada Beach resort after the holdup and phoned police.

TAKEN FOR RIDE

About ten days ago, Wenzel said, he met two men, whose names were "Sam" and "Pete," at a San Francisco club. Late Thursday afternoon of last week "Sam" and "Pete" called up to ask Wenzel if he would like to take a ride with them.

They drove around town for an hour or two then headed down the coast. Near Sharp Park three men with guns and their faces covered with handerchiefs jumped in front of the car. The bandits relieved Wenzel of his wallet and $2.75 and made off with his hoes.

After forcing "Sam" and "Pete" out of the car the gunmen took the machine and fled toward San Francisco. "Sam" and "Pete" took out after them on foot.

It is believed that after disappearing in the fog the car stopped to pick up "Sam" and "Pete." Wenzel's description of "Pete" tallies closely with that of Lagomarsino, who is sought on several burglary charges.

PROPOSED COUNTY OFFICE BUILDING SITE IN REDWOOD

Supervisors pass motion to purchase this Hansen property on Marshall street and Middlefield road. Opposition arises. See story below.

SUPERVISORS AND IMPROVEMENT CLUB BALK PLANS TO PURCHASE SITE FOR COUNTY SEAT BUILDING

$6500 Not To Be Taken From Land Acquisition Fund To Buy Hansen Lots

Two serious obstacles were encountered, Monday of this week, at the Board of Supervisors meeting, toward the acquisition of Redwood City property on which to erect new county offices.

The first snag was hit when the board passed a motion by Supervisor Albert Witt Jr. not to take money from the $20,000 land acquisition fund for the $6500 purchase of the Hansen property at Marshall street and Middlefield road.

The second came when Eugene Signarowitz, secretary of the East San Mateo Improvement Club, threatened to take steps to prevent a federal grant being won by the county for the proposed $100,000 structure. Signarowitz based his opposition on the claim that in the past San Mateans have expressed their desire to remove the county seat to the San Mateo-Burlingame area.

FUND TRANSFER

The first dispute over the building was brought about by a protest from L. Herbert Harris and Mrs. Sophie Root, president and secretary of the county recreation commission, who opposed the diversion of recreational land acquisition funds to purchase the office site.

The board was informed by Assistant District Attorney Sullivan

WOMAN SUICIDE AT BAYSHORE

Swallows "Handful" Sleeping Powders;Dies After Being Taken To Hospital

Several mysterious circumstances surrounding the alleged suicide death, Saturday night of last week, of Mrs. Laura Hamlen, 41, 309 Ottillia avenue, Bayshore City, are to be probed by police.

Daniel J. O'Connell, deputy coroner, said Mrs. Hamlen had three times previously attempted to commit suicide. Her death, it is claimed, followed a drinking party with her estranged husband and a San Francisco nurse, Miss Ansell.

PECULIAR CIRCUMSTANCES

Two peculiar circumstances shrouded the suicide in mystery. First—The fact that Miss Ansell evidently had attempted to commit suicide herself after Mrs. Hamlen was rushed by ambulance to Villa Sanatorium at 3:30 a. m., Saturday; and Second—A discrepancy between stories told authorities by Miss Ansell and Hamlen.

Mrs. Hamlen died in Villa Sanatorium at 8:30 p. m., Saturday, after an all day battle for life. From the time she reached the hospital until she died Mrs. Hamlen did not regain consciousness, attendants said.

RECONSTRUCTION

Reconstruction of the suicide story by Deputy Coroner O'Connell is as follows:

Mrs. Hamlen, who has been estranged from her husband for several months, received a visit from him, Friday evening last, and to-

ORDINANCE PASSES TO "TEETH" CITY CONDEMNATION PROCEDURE WHICH HERETOFORE WAS LACKING

Act Gives Authorities Power To Abate Nuisances At Property Owners Cost

Genuine progress was made at the council meeting, Monday evening of this week, toward solving a problem which for many years has impeded community development here. An ordinance was adopted which empowers city authorities to abate nuisances at the cost of property owners.

This action provides "teeth" for Daly City's condemnation procedure.

Formerly, undesirable structures were condemned, but no action was taken to remove them, in many instances. The city may now abate such obsolete buildings or wreckage and place a lien upon the property for expenses entailed.

BID LET

Two bids were submitted for pipe and connections necessary in the reconstruction of the water system on San Jose avenue, to be installed in conjunction with the street improvements now going on. The bid for $1251.32 from A. M. Harrison was accepted.

STREET IMPROVEMENT

A petition from Eaton and Smith, paving contractors, asked that they be permitted to finish street work on Willits street from Citrus avenue to the Jefferson Union High School property. Grading from property line to property line, construction of side sewers and curbs and laying a roadway with three and one-half inch asphaltic base and one and one-half inch surface was proposed. Contractors were granted permission to proceed with the work.

MISSION STREET

City officials alleged that the State Highway Department did not carry out a verbal agreement to establish uniform curb lines after Mission street was widened recently. Consequently, Daly City is now faced with the problem of irregular curbs and sidewalks along the major portion of the western side of Mission street from the county line to Colma.

The highway department, it was reported, is willing to construct new curbs and sidewalks providing $2500 of local money is spent to remove old curbs and sidewalks which do not fit the correct grades.

It was not explained why one side of the street was properly cared for while the other side was neglected to the detriment of the city.

Action was postponed until the city budget is set up, which will require a period of approximately three weeks.

PRIVATE PROPERTY

In connection with the curb and sidewalk problem on the western side of Mission street another difficult situation arises concerning present and future private property lines. Between Liebig street and the county line present property lines allow for only a three-foot sidewalk. Some time in the future Daly City will be forced to buy additional property to widen the area between the curb and private property limits. At present

COAST DEFENSE WEAK-U. S. ARMY TO MODERNIZE

Ninth Corps Area Chief Recommends Key Centers Be Fortified And Network Of Roads

The United States Army is considering a modernization program for its entire west coast defense in recognition of the inadequacy and obsolescense of Pacific security against growing hazards of air attack and the increased ranges and power of naval guns.

The Ninth Corps Area—embracing California, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming—is roughly equivalent to what is known as "Western Europe," which, with the territory of Alaska, comprises some 39 per cent of all soil under the American Flag.

In this vast area there are stationed only 16,000 regular soldiers,

ONE DEAD—TWO ARE INJURED IN HIGHWAY CRASH

Car Skids 210 Feet, Smashes Back Of Truck At Terrific Speed, Continues 97 Feet

A highway collision south of Lawndale, Monday of this week, netted one man dead and two companions seriously injured. Edwin Huffman, 29, unemployed bartender, of the Windsor Hotel, Sixth street, San Francisco, is dead.

Critically injured were Ira Ericksen, 23 year old bartender, 2776 Diamond street, San Francisco, and Miss Helen Fern Roundsaville, 22, 1278 Market street, San Francisco.

ACCIDENT AT 3 A. M.

The accident occurred at exactly 3 a. m., Captain Paul Perussina of the highway patrol reported.

Ericksen, driver of the fatal coupe, was traveling north on the highway. He crashed into a heavy truck, driven by Carlos Molinari of San Jose, who escaped injury.

SKIDDED 210 FEET

Perussina declared Ericksen evidently had been traveling at a high rate of speed and had suddenly put on his brakes when he saw the truck looming up out of the fog ahead. His machine skidded 210 feet before it struck the truck and continued on its way for 97 feet after the crash.

Huffman died in the ambulance en route to South San Francisco Hospital of a compound fracture of the skull . .

SPRING MEETING AT TANFORAN STIRS TALK

By J. W. MARCHBANK

Preparations for a race meeting at Tanforan must be begun early in order to put on a session in keeping with the traditions of the course. That is why a good deal of my time even now is devoted to thought of a period of sport to open on Saturday, March 13, of next year. The spring meeting will be the fifteenth in the series since I brought back racing to California in the early part of 1930.

The races will have their first running on a Saturday, unlike this fall, when they started on a Thursday. Experience has shown either Friday or Saturday is good for the beginning; Thursday is not ideal from many angles.

In accordance with the plan adopted at my track several years ago, there will be racing on each week day with the exception of Monday; such a program has been found to be remarkably popular with fans, horsemen and business men. The sport has more sparkle to it if only on for five days a week.

My policy has always been to treat the owners liberally and I shall maintain it at the coming meeting. On each of the six Saturdays will be a stakes, most of them renewals such as the Inaugural Handicap, the Tanforan Three Year Old Championship, the Tanforan Juvenile, the Marchbank and the Exposition. A new feature will be the Woodside. named for that beautiful section of our county. Purses will be in proportion to the "class" of the contestants stakes values will be increased, as there is every indication better horses will be available for the important struggles out on the mile oval.

There will be no racing on Good Friday, March 26, making the season 25 days in all.

Right now there is plenty of activity at the track with about 100 coming two year olds and a large colony of members of the mature division in training. The horsemen are high in their praise of the condition of the racing strip, saying in unqualified manner it is the best in the whole country. They have come from far and near to take advantage of the opportunity to fit their gallopers for the racing at Santa Anita, which immediately precedes that at Tanforan.

Members Of Old Glory Give Thanks

Thanksgiving Day marks the passing of another milestone in the history of Old Glory Auxiliary, as Friday, November 27, is the beginning of a new term, and President Genevieve Linser, with her corps of officers, joins the ranks of the past. But, before doing so, they wish to thank all those who have aided the Auxiliary to make this another successful year, for without the good will and hearyt co-operation of the community as well as its members, no organization can hope to turn the pages of history on which is inscribed "Success."

The Auxiliary, under the able command of President Linser, went forth to gain new laurels, and in looking back over the year we believe this has been accomplished, for four trophies have been aded to the trophy case and prize money to the drill team treasury, besides bringing to Daly City the champion drill team of the Department of California.

When remarks were passed, "Old Glory, Daly City, never heard of them before," they were answered by "You will!" and Old Glory Auxiliary, through its officers and drill team, are extremely happy in the fulfillment of this prediction.

This Auxiliary has the distinction of being the only one to have its name inscribed on the department historians cup for the second consecutive time. It is our belief Old Glory is the only one having a regular installation and escort team.

The hospitalization work has been cheerfully and carefully carried on to new heights, also under your direction, Genevieve, and though you join the ranks of the past presidents, we know it will never be said that you are a "has been," for, knowing you as we do, we'll always look for you in the "ranks of the active."

The members wish one and all a very bountiful Thanksgiving.

On Wednesday the Old Glory Auxiliary drill and Post degree teams assisted Department Chaplains E. Dorn and Fred Linser in installing the oficers of both Tanforan Auxiliary and Post No. 2517, in the N. D. Hall, San Bruno.

Following a day of feasting, the members of Old Glory are extremely busy today (Friday, November 27,) with preparations for their own installation of officers tonight.

● This adopted state of mine is God's country, chiefly because it is a Gas country. Praise be to Gas Heating I say every winter when I set a little dial to get good wholesome, healthy heat.

I don't see why Californians bother with any other kind of winter fuel. I've tried them all back East and in the Mid-West. Out here with the low cost Gas Heating rate you are money ahead by using clean, convenient Gas fuel which comes delivered in a pipe and burns without smudgy smoke, smell or soot.

These new self-starting, self-running Gas Circulating heaters with Thermostat Heat Control are the finest heating devices I've ever seen. They are beautifully designed, are inexpensive to buy, and cost very little to operate.

that by a four-fifths vote it could take the money from the recreational fund regardless of the desire of that commission. By a 3-2 vote the board passed Witt's motion, seconded by Walter High, not to touch the funds and to go on record as opposing such transfer of money set up for certain purposes.

ANOTHER SOURCE

After the session Supervisor John Poole stated that an attempt would be made to raise funds from other sources to make the office site purchase, voted last week. Attorney Sullivan advised that money might possibly be taken from the building fund or from the unbudgeted reserve.

A demand was made by Signarowitz that Chairman Francis appoint a committee to study the proposal to move the county seat to San Mateo.

After reciting that as far back as 1873 there was agitation to change the seat of government, Signarowitz demanded to know:

"Why should another piece of property be bought now to provide an extra burden?

"I think the board chairman should appoint the committe it authorized him to name, or else say why not," he declared. "I think sufficient time has now elapsed."

FRANCIS DEFENDS

Defending his delay, Chairman Francis said:

"I want to take some time about appointing this committee. I don't want to be rushed. I've selected three or four, but I want to take my time on the rest."

"Well, we're very sincere in this matter," continued Signarowitz. "We may go to the United States government to protest the granting of any funds to aid the office building. We'll present them with the facts and show them that theres' dissatisfaction with having the courthouse at Redwood City. We're simply warning you to that extent."

Mrs. Elsie Anderson of San Jose avenue was honored at a stork shower, Thursday evening of last week, by Myrtle Gabriel and Madeline Ferro, at the latter's home on Mission street.

The table was decorated in pink and blue, with paper bootie candy baskets and a huge cake for the centerpiece and a miniature stork perched thereon.

Many lovely gifts were received by the guest of honor.

Those present were Mesdames Marcie Trier, Virginia Webb, Mary Conci, Helen Kennedy, Alice Kennedy, Maxine Kennedy, Mable Lorenz, Evelyn Osteya, Adeline McGrath, Cecelia Kennedy, M. Moran, P. Popino, Laura Weiss, T. Davies, C. Danelo, Rose Foster, Edith Canelo, Loraine Wall, Irma Peterson, Gertrude Piconi, Hazel Lagomarsino, Helen Valentino, E. Nelson and A. Kennedy and Misses F. FLIERS KILLED

Cause of an airplane crash in a cornfield near Lunken Airport, Cincinnati, O., Monday of this week, was said to have been a "dead" motor.

Lives of two army pilots were lost.

Dead Sea Lion And Seal Washed Ashore

A 300 pound sea lion was washed ashore near The Breakers resort at Rockaway Beach, Tuesday of this week. Wednesday a 200 pound fur seal was washed in.

Large wounds indicated that the animals had been shot by hunters who had gone out in a boat, or else snipers on the beach had bagged the mammals as they came close to shore to feed.

If caught the hunters are liable to a $500 fine.

County authorities made a trip to Rockaway Beach, day before yesterday, and buried the dead animals.

Child Celebrates Fifth Birthday

Little Mary Ruth Frazier of Hanover street was hostess, Thursday afternoon of last week, at a birthday party given in her home, honoring her on her fifth birthday.

The guests, numbering 44 in all, were seated at a table which was artistically decorated in autumn colors. The favors were in turkey baskets. Each of the 24 children was given a large "Mickey Mouse" balloon.

The small hostess received many lovely gifts.

A merry afternoon was spent by the children in playing games.

gether they went to San Francisco, bringing Miss Ansell back to Bayshore with them.

Some time during the evening Mrs. Hamlen suddenly swallowed a "handful" of sleeping tablets, collapsing almost immediately.

Miss Ansell, who is a trained nurse, attempted to administer first aid treatment, and when this proved of no avail Hamlen telephoned Villa Sanatorium for an ambulance.

Saturday night passersby noticed all the lights in the Hamlen house burning and detected the odor of escaping gas. A fire alarm brought Bayshore firemen to the scene. They found the residence deserted. They turned off the gas and light.

Later Officer J. A. Monahan discovered Miss Ansell wandering through the streets and took her into custody. She was taken to Redwood City, where she was held over night as a material witness.

The Affix "Honorable"

We have often wondered how people acquired the affix "Honorable" and for what reason it was bestowed on certain individuals whose right to the title seemed obscure.

We wonder if the amassing of wealth might be responsible for the bestowal. Or is it because, through chicanery or otherwise, one rises to some status of political prestige? Or, possibly, because one has aggrandized himself by questionable or devious and subtle methods, but while so doing has accumulated considerable of this world's goods and applause, no matter at what expense to character?

Those reasons mentioned in the preceding paragraph seem to be the generally understood explanation for the affix "Honorable."

However, we believe the appellation rather should be bestowed on those, however humble in station, who have done or are doing something to benefit human kind. Men who, instead of devoting their lives to securing advantage for themselves, unselfishly give of their time, talents and effort for the benefit of their fellow citizens.

The writer is of the opinion that before we extoll the virtues of some individuals whose names carry the affix "Honorable" we might do well to examine into their spiritual welfare and shattered characters, many of which are sadly in need of repair.

ACROSS THE GOLDEN GATE

Add another to the growing list of California's man-made wonders of the world that are challenging even nature's mightiest monuments.

The last deck section of the Golden Gate Bridge was hoisted into place last week, linking two peninsulas with a pathway of steel arching the famous gap through which surge the waters of the bay.

Not so many years ago they were saying it couldn't be done. Well, it has been done now, although it took a single suspension span larger and longer than any ever built before. It is 4200 feet long, while the next longest is the George Washington Bridge over the Hudson, 3500 feet.

The towers of this giant structure are 746 feet tall, or 191 feet taller than the Washington Monument and 300 feet taller than a 27-story skyscraper. The two three-foot-thick cables, capable of supporting 430,000,000 pounds, have in them 80,000 miles of wire, or enough to build a standard sized wire fence on both sides of the main highway from Canada to the Mexican border.

It is said of Chief Engineer Strauss that in school he was barred as too small for the football team, and that for compensation he vowed he would some day build the biggest thing of its kind in the world. And now he has done it.

By May first of next year, when the bridge across the Golden Gate is thrown open, another man-made miracle will stand ready to serve, and to amaze, mankind.

MADAME SCHUMANN-HEINK

When Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink held the stage she had no equal in the world of song. A voice such as hers may never again be known.

But it was more than because of her greatness as a singer that her death last week cast a shadow of personal bereavement over a whole people. You have only to remember her story to understand that.

It is the story of a great-hearted, motherly woman whose spirit and courage and kindliness became a byword in this country, which she adopted as her own more than thirty years ago. During the war the lives of American soldiers were brightened by her presence, as she went almost constantly among them, bringing song and good cheer. Frequently after the war she went from hospital to hospital, singing for the disabled.

Through the years of 1917 and 1918, although outwardly she was a jolly contralto who sang for "her boys" everywhere, Madame Schumann-Heink faced the tragedy of having sons on opposite sides. Her older boys, raised in Europe, fought with the Austrians. The younger sons were with the Allies. One was killed in action.

At 75, her zest for life undimmed, the diva was still spiritedly active and cheerful. Hers was a full life to the very end. One can understand why she told her physician a few hours before death that she went "without fear or regret." The regret is for us to feel.

OLD CALIFORNIA

Shades of old Cabrillo, that intrepid navigator who in 1542 first discovered this land of California! And the first white settlers who came a century and a half ago to hold the land for Spain, the Padres blazing the trail of the old Spanish missions whose ruins still evoke visions of the picturesque pastoral life of those early days.

Next week California will have reason to recall this first chapter in her dramatic history. Just a hundred and fifty years ago, December 4, 1786, the "queen of the mission" was founded at Santa Barbara. And you may be sure Santa Barbara is observing the occsion appropriately, with a two day sesqui-centennial celebration.

About the structure on a hill overlooking the sea and the city there is abundant evidence of the enterprising spirit of the Padres who followed Junipero Serra into the land of Indians. The building itself stands as rebuilt in 1815, and there is a stone reservoir and acqueduct dated 1806. That was still some 40 years before American occupation, when such men as Commodore Stockton and Colonel Fremont entered the picture.

Much that is characteristically Californian today was contributed by these early Padres who left all the Spanish place names and the mission trails. But their presence may also have changed the whole course of our history.

What would have happened, for example, had the claim of Sir Francis Drake, who planted the English flag here in 1579, held good? It is conceivable that we might have been part of Canada today!

SHOP EARLY THIS YEAR!

It's about the time of year, now, for that strange metamorphosis in the conduct of children. The normal amount of childish petulancy is fading, being miraculously supplanted by the temperament of angels. They run errands eagerly. They eat their spinach. And at bed time they go to bed willingly, without admonition.

You've guessed the reason. Christmas is near!

That's only one of the signs all about us. The quickened pace of life. The added zestfulness in anticipation of the cheerful season to come. The Santa Claus in the store. It's all part of the spirit that is already in the air.

If early signs are any criterion, we had best cut stout Christmas trees this year to carry the bountiful loads of gifts. What with the bonuses, the re-employment, the wage increases and booming business, people have more money to buy things than in any of the past half dozen years.

Of course, you're intending to shop early this year. Every one always is. But in spite of the "shop early" slogans, in spite of the daily reminders that only fifteen days remain, or fourteen, or thirteen, or twelve, there'll be that inevitable multitude of buyers who feel there is always tomorrow.

And when the last tomorrow comes, the stampede will be on, the stores will be jammed, and a hectic time will be had. If you want to avoid that last minute rush on a Thursday not far away, you'll shop now and not wait for tomorrow.

WET PAINT

There is something fascinating
In a sign that says "Fresh Paint."
It tempts us all to see for certain
If it really is or ain't.

We touch the painted surface lightly
Nothing wrong in that, you know,
Just to satisfy our feeling
By the proving that it's so.

Voice Of Experience

The teacher had asked her class to write a short composition on the subject, "Water."

One scholar seemed to be having difficulty, but finally turned in his paper, and here is what he wrote:

"Water is a light-colored, wet liquid which turns dark when you wash in it."—Staley Journal.

EXPERIENCED HOUSEWIFE CLUB

(By Maude Larue Ives)

The soft creamy layers delight
hungry eyes;
Oh for a big piece of appetite size.

Charlotte Hughes, 153 Alexander avenue, says that this cake is her favorite, and her brother, Buddy, doesn't need a lot of urging to eat a piece. So this housewife's daughter sends in the recipe for your approval.

WHIP CREAM LAYER CAKE

One cup whipped cream, one-half cup egg whites, one cup sugar, one and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla and one-fourth teaspoon salt. Whip cream until stiff, drop in the egg whites and beat until light. Add sugar and beat again, add salt and vanilla, whip in flour and baking powder. Bake in two layers in a moderate oven (350 degrees). When cool spread with pineapple filling and frost chocolate.

PINEAPPLE FILLING

One can crushed pineapple, one-half cup sugar, three level teaspoons flour, one tablepsoon butter, one teaspoon lemon juice. Cook until thick and add water if necessary.

STUFFED PEPPERS

(From The Farmer's Wife)

Remove tops and centers from six green peppers. Season inside of cups with salt and pepper. Fry four tablespoons diced bacon and continue cooking five minutes. Add two cups soft bread crumbs, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one-half cup liquid (vegetable juice, meat stock or milk). Fill the vegetable cups and place in a greased shallow pan. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 20 to 30 minutes.

Pronounce This Word If You Can

After seven years of research, a non-habit forming substitute for morphine has been discovered, at the University of Virginia.

The three new compounds are known scientifically as heterocodethyln, dihidroheterocodethylin and dihidroheterocodein. The fundamental basis of the research is a synthesis from coal tar from which many medicines, drugs and aniline dyes already have been produced.

PROMISE OF POPULAR RULE AT WASHINGTON

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

President Roosevelt and his chief counselors have plenty to do in the next four years carrying out the mandate of the people for the liberalization of the federal government in the most modern way. The electors, by their overwhelming verdict at the polls, have told the chief executive to go ahead, but there must be an immense working out of details before he can do that little thing.

Whatever is to be done must be done within constitutional limits; if not, the constitution must be amended and that takes time. Eventually, however, it may be expected we'll have a much different setup than we did at Washington twenty years ago, or even ten years ago. Government is a matter of evolution and we must see to it that changes are made for the good of all the people, not any particular group or section.

The men and women of the United States voted for the New Deal despite the fact the Supreme Court had decided certain objectives of the New Deal had not been tried for in what the justices interpreted as constitutional form.

I read the other night where Heywood Broun said it seemed to him no one can deny the electorate said:

"Let us look into the twin problem of the courts and the constitution and find out if changes are necessary, and if so what form they should take."

We have said changes should not be made for the benefit of any particular group, but it may be legislation will be initiated at the session of Congress in January by a particular group, such as labor or agriculture. Simply because certain bills are introduced by friends of labor or of the farmer does not mean they should be taboo; they can easily be for the good of all the people, although on their face only for a group.

The somewhat anomalous situation arises because labor and farming are vital factors in the welfare of the nation; other groups, such as industry and finance, on account of the wealth they represent, can look out for themselves, at least see they do not get the worst of it.

It is the current opinion that the well known caution of President Roosevelt will prompt him to delay action on any particular change until it has been clearly manifested the public wants it. That is the original notion of democracy; make laws the people demand.

Quite a bit of discussion is on over the bill of Senator Joseph G. O'Mahoney, Democrat, of Wyoming, providing all business concerns doing an interstate business to obtain federal charters. No charter would be issued without the concurrence of the concern in minimum hours and other standards the federal government might require. The proposed legislation is reported to have the approval of the White House.

It is also suggested in liberal circles that fair trade practices, which were a prominent part of the NRA, be regulated on a compulsory basis. The Federal Trade Commission would be given authority to outlaw unfair trade practices on the agreement of a majority of an industry.

Co-operation between state and nation was set forth in a resolution adopted at a recent conference sponsored by Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor. It was suggested minimum wage legislation be passed by both the federal and various state law making bodies.

What is doing on the agricultural front is indicated by a demand by farm leaders for revival of production control. Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace has said he is in favor of machinery to limit the size of crops. He insists on the necessity of restoring a full measure of crop control which the Supreme Court outlawed in the AAA decision.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, November 29, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be "It is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve" (Matthew 4: 10). Other Bible citations will include: "There shall not be found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch. . . . For these nations, which thou shall possess, hearkened unto observers of times, and unto diviners but as for thee, the Lord thy God hath not suffered thee so to do" (Deut. 18: 10, 14).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Devine Mind rightly demands man's entire obedience, affection, and strength. No reservation is made for any lesser loyalty. Obedience to Truth gives man power

Child Delinquency Is Vital Problem

"Juvenile delinquency is a vital American problem which would mount to even more appalling proportions were it not for the services rendered by Community Chest agencies."

Lloyd L. Wilson, public relations secretary for the San Francisco Young Men's Christian Association, made this assertion while paying tribute to the high type of work performed by the chest, which is in the midst of a determined campaign to raise $2,029,809 to support 88 welfare agencies during 1937. The drive will close December 2.

Wilson placed a large share of the blame for youthful shortcomings on parents and the modern home, but added:

"Another principal reason, and one which is intensely interesting, is the failure of the American communities generally to provide constructive recreation for boys and girls in their leisure time.

"I wonder how long it is going to take America as a whole to spend some money on the principle that an ounce of prevention is still better than a pound of cure. No matter how much money is needed, it is worth it if we turn boys and girls from the paths of delinquency into the paths of good citizenship.

"Chest agencies provide for thousands of San Francisco boys the constructive, worthwhile occupation for their leisure time, which individuals would do if they had the same skill, leadership and vision of the possibilities of youth."

Wilson chided parents for setting bad examples to their children by their violations of traffic laws and other widely disregarded statutes.

"The public attitude of unwillingness to be punished is picked up very quickly by young people," he declared.

"Parents must deliberately set out to live before their children from day to day the sort of lives they would be happy to see reproduced in their children twenty years later. The broken home is one of the largest contributors to delinquency and no one but adults are responsible for them.

"Community Chest agencies which assist children are worth far more than they cost. We need only remember that the cost of crime in the United States last year was fixed by the department of justice at thirteen billion dollars to understand that any money spent to reduce that bill is a good investment."

POET AND SHORT STORY WRITERS HAD ACTIVE LIFE

Bret Harte's Unusually Realistic Tales Will Live Long In Our History

(By Maude Larue Ives)

Between the years of 1839 and 1902 lived an American poet and short story writer usually known as Bret Harte. His picturesque and realistic tales of workers in the mining camps of California are among the best in American literature.

He was born in Albany, New York. His father died when he was quite young, and at the age of fifteen he migrated to California with his mother. There he drifted with the human tide, trying at different times to make his way as a miner, a school teacher, express messenger and typesetter. Meantime the varied life and scenery of the California plains and mountains were making impressions that he later reproduced with wonderful fidelity; he was becoming familiar with the types of character that live in the pages of his writings.

In 1857, Harte was employed as a typesetter by the "Golden Era," a weekly newspaper of San Francisco, and for that publication he began to write sketches that eventually won for him the position of assistant editor. In 1864 he joined the staff of the "Weekly Californian," in which appeared the clever parodies on the styles of various authors that were later published as condensed novels. At the same time he became secretary of the United States Branch Mint at San Francisco, an office which he held until 1870.

In 1871, after serving for a few months as professor of recent literature in the University of California, Harte went to New York to continue his literary work. For several years after 1878 he was in the consular service, holding appointments at Crefeld, Germany, and at Glasgow, Scotland. From 1885 until his death he lived in England, where from time to time he issued volumes of tales which showed that the vivid impressions of his early life in California were undimmed by time. The last of these, "Under the Redwoods," was published in 1901, the year before his death.

Adventurers gamblers, wrecks of humanity of both sexes, move across the pages of his writings, forming a picturesque and vivid gallery of human portraits. These are presented without apology or explanation; there are no unnecessary comments or descriptions for Harte's characters reveal themselves wholly in their own words. Harte wrote "The Luck of Roaring Camp,, in 1868 while he was editor of the "Overland Monthly." This was followed by "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," "Tennessee's Partner," "Miggles," "An Idol of Red Gulch" and others. The author's most popular poem, "Plain Language From Truthful James," also known as the "Heathen Chinee,," was published in 1870.

The divine spark of heroism was possessed by many of his characters, sorry specimens of humanity, the world would say — but, like the wretched woman in "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," would starve to death that her snowbound companions might have her portion of food.

Thanks to Bret Harte for the lesson that many of the kindest hearts beat beneath a rough exterior.

Will Encourage Tree Planting

Mrs. B. C. Clark, president of the state congress says that tree planting by parent teacher assiciations throughout the United States will be an important feature of the celebration of the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. A plan adopted at the recent meeting of the National Board of Managers recommends that each of the 25,000 local associations, councils and state branches plant a tree during the year 1937 in honor of the congress and its founders, as a permanent mark of the anniversary. The American Tree Association will issue enrollment cards in participating groups on notification that a tree has been planted.

CANADIAN ROADS

British Columbia will have 1030 miles of surfaced highway by the end of this year as the result of road improvements carried out in the last few years and will have several hundred miles more ready for blacktopping treatment.

This is just a bit more than five per cent of the 19,776 miles of road system within the province and covers mainly the trunk highways on Vancouver Island and Lower Mainland, with stretches at important points along the route into the interior. All secondary roads are gravel.

The road system represents an investment by the people of British Columbia of some $68,000,000, of which $40,140,000 is borrowed money. The carrying charges yearly, in-

Transamerica Has Acquired Seaboard

Control of the Seaboard National Bank of Los Angeles has been acquired by Transamerica Corporation through the purchase of the bank's $1,200,000 in common stock, according to an announcement today by A. P. Giannini, chairman of Transamerica's board. He also announced that the Seaboard Bank's $300,000 in preferred stock would be immediately retired, and that officers and personnel would continue to serve patrons as heretofore.

Organized in April, 1924, the Seaboard National Bank at the close of business yesterday had capital, resources and undivided profits of $2,272,000, deposits of $17,094,000 and total resources of $19,784,000. Its head office is located on the northeast corner of Spring and Sixth streets and it has four branches. Two of the branches are located on Wilshire boulevard, one on Hollywood boulevard and one on Santee street.

Mr. Giannini stated that the plan was to eventually merge the Seaboard National Bank into Bank of America's statewide system.

The local merchant can increase his business and keep purchases at home by advertising in The Record.

CHRISTMAS FOR VET HOSPITAL TO BE GRAND

Committee Expects To Make This Year's Celebration Best Ever

Many new patients will arrive next month at the U. S. Veterans Hospital in Livermore, probably to spend their first Christmas in a hospital, but they, like others who are sick and disabled there, will be visited by Santa Claus, presented with gifts and made happy by the Christmas cheer arranged for the veterans by the Christmas committee.

Last year at Christmas time, Dr. D. J. Sullivan was a newcomer to the hospital's list of patients. He wrote, "Christmas, 1935, being my first in any hospital, having arrived only a few days before the holiday, I was agreeably and pleasantly surprised with the festive air and Christmas spirit created by the decorations and the activities of the committee. My Christmas present, two lovely sweater coats, was gratefully received. I send my congratulations and thanks to the committee and hope 1936 Christmas will be as pleasant."

Another patient at the hospital, Frank Rimer, said Christmas of 1935 was the most enjoyable Yuletide ever spent among strangers. "Luzon," another patient, told members of the committee visiting the patients at the hospital last week that the committee's "rare thoughtfulness and devotion to the Christmas spirit of sharing" had made Christmas time in the hospital a home-like Yuletide celebration.

Members of the Christmas committee, each one assigned to a personal task, are at work now arranging for the veteran's celebration at the hospital. Shopping for the many gifts to be given the veterans, making hundreds of grab-bags to be filled with amusing surprises, arranging a big entertainment program, and decorating the hospital with Christmas garlands, trees and wreaths, are among the many activities of the committee.

South City Downs J. U. H. S. Indians

In one of the most spirted battles on the peninsula this season, South City defeated Jefferson, 12-0, Thursday of last week.

For three quarters the two teams fought nip and tuck with Jefferson having the edge in yardage rolled up from scrimmage.

The game started with South City kicking off. Stansbury returned the ball fifteen yards to the 35 yard line. Stansbury made a first down on two line bucks. Compagno then faded back and threw a fifteen yard pass to Ragni, who ran twenty yards before being stopped on South City's twenty yard line. Jefferson seemed to be on her way to an early touchdown, but lost possession of the ball after four line plunges which netted only four yards. South City could get nowhere and was forced to kick on the fourth down. The first quarter ended with neither team threatening to score again.

In the second quarter a 45 yard quick kick by Ferko traveled over Compagno's head and was grounded by South City on the Indian five yard line. Ragni punted only thirteen yards to the eighteen yard line giving South City a fine scoring chance. Ferko made seven yards on a line plunge, but on the next play South City was penalized fifteen yards for holding. Then Wright intercepted Ferko's pass on the five yard line and was brought down on the ten. Bud Simpson, the biggest ground gainer of the day, made 25 yards in three plays after a completed pass. Simpson fumbled and South City recovered as the half ended.

Neither team threatened to score during the third period, the game being played most of the time in midfield.

As the fourth quarter started, it seemed that the final score would be 0-0, like several other games between these two schools.

However, South City recovered a fumble on the Jefferson 25 yard line and proceeded to score a touchdown when Ferko hit pay dirt from the three yard line. Ferko's attempted conversion was wide.

Ferko then kicked off to Jefferson, and Midge Silicani returned the ball to the 50 yard line, where he stumbled over one of his own men. Jefferson then took to the air, but one of Simpson's passes was intercepted and returned to a touchdown by Buffay. Ferko again failed to convert.

Topping all individual players on the field was Kendal Van Pelt. His fine defensive playing was outstanding. He amazed the spectators by some of his flying tackles. He assisted in almost every tackle made by his team.

Auto Deal May End Supervisors Clash

A conflict over seating Supervisor Elect James S. James as successor to Walter M. High of Burlingame was, it is believed ended Friday of last week, when the announcement was made that High had purchased a million dollar automobile business in Fresno. Blaze Destroys Old Residence

The Colma Volunteer Fire Department was called out, early Sunday morning of this week, to fight a fire which destroyed the A. Conci residence on Junipero Serra boulevard near San Pedro road. The blaze spread to a nearby barn, partially destroying it. Livestock, including four horses which were housed in the barn, were led to safety by Mr. Conci.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Poor visibility caused by the smoke and heavy fog was credited with an ensuing collision involving five automobiles on the highway adjoining the Conci place.

One of the autos making a left hand turn into the scene of the fire was struck by a second auto. A moment later a car driven by Marion R. Siglie of Beach street, San Francisco, ploughed into the wreckage. Summoned to the scene, a tow car from Petersons Garage was struck by a fourth auto, whose driver has become confused by the warning flares set up on the highway.

Treated for various minor injuries at Villa Sanatorium were Dorothy Lueders, Emmet C. Humbird and Glen R. Humbird, all of San Francisco. Marie Humbird, also a passenger, was treated for a broken leg and skull fracture. At the Junipero Serra Hospital, Marion R. Siglie was treated for severe contusions of the chest and remained in the hospital for observation.

Pointers in the prevention of accidents and the administration of aid in such cases were topics of interest in the address given to the Bayshore P. T. A. by Mrs. E. way to the ravages of the dreaded white plague, tuberculosis, have been saved from a tragic fate and restored to good health again at no expense to their families, it was revealed by Mrs. Dana.

In the past the Preventorium drive for funds has been associated with the sale of Christmas seals. It will not be so this year, since the Preventorium will go out on its own.

Under the Christmas seal sale arrangement, 25 per cent of the moneys derived from the drive were turned over to the state. This will not be the case this year. Subscriptions will be solicited through the mail and donations are to be sent directly to the Preventorium.

Members of the organization, prominent citizens throughout the county, called attention to the fact that the Preventorium this year is facing a heavy need for funds.

"Our organization has been called upon to administer aid to hundreds of San Mateo County children whose families were unable financially to provide the proper medical care for them.

"The Preventorium," continued Mrs. Dana, "is supported solely by public subscription.

"If we are to be allowed to continue this great work among our own people here in this county we must take seriously our newly adopted slogan—'Protect Your Home Children First'—by subscribing liberally and directly to the Preventorium."

North San Mateo County, it was said, will throw its full support to the Preventorium as has been the case in the past.

While the Pacific fleet cannot be tied down to the defense of land areas at possible invasion, its very existence is a mighty shield against attack. Hawaiian fortifications are also of strategic importance.

CENTERS AND ROADS

Permanent and modern fortification of the four great coastal centers—southern California, San Francisco bay region, lower Columbia River and Puget Sound—with new long range heavy guns and anti-aircraft installations supplemented with ample garrisons are of vital importance.

With the great harbors well secured, the question of mobility of other forces by road, air and rail, to "met the enemy at the beach" is another factor of defense which is being worked out.

Honors Birthday

A birthday dinner honoring Mrs. George Lagomarsino was given by her husband, Saturday evening of last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lagomarsino on Eighty-eighth avenue. Guests included a number of relatives and friends.

Thanksgiving Day Science Service

On Thanksgiving Day a well-attended service was held at First Church of Christ, Scientist, in South San Francisco.

The services opened with the singing of a hymn. The First Reader than read the Thanksgiving Proclamation of the President of the United States and a Scriptural selection, after which the congregation was requested to join in a few moments of silent prayer followed by the audible repetition of the Lord's Prayer with its spiritual interpretation as given in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon was "Thanksgiving," the Golden Text being from Psalms: "I will praise the name of God with a song, and will magnify him with thanksgiving" (69: 30).

One of the Scriptural passages contained in the Lesson-Sermon was from Malachi 3: 10, and reads: "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

The following definition of the word "tithe" was contained in the correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook: "Contribution tenth part: homage; gratitude" (Science and Health, p 595).

Following a solo, brief testimonies, expressing gratitude for healing, regeneration and spiritual growth as a result of the application of Christian Science, were given by members of the congregation.
